

NEW EQUIPMENT LIMITED WARRANTY

All new product listed below and sold by Stud Welding Products shall be warranted against defects including workmanship and components. No other warranties whether expressed, verbal, or implied will apply. Warranties only apply to the original equipment purchaser. Warranty claims will be limited to either repair or replacement of the defective materials by SWP. At the option of SWP the location of where the warranty evaluation and repairs are made will be determined. All warranty claim items returned to SWP will be at the customer's expense. At the option of SWP the defect will either be repaired or replaced. Notice must be provided to SWP of a warranty defect within 30 days that the defect or failure is incurred. Warranties are not transferable. This warranty does not apply for equipment which is used improperly in any fashion including but not exclusive to the following:

- Equipment which has been modified
- Equipment which has not been installed properly
- Equipment which has been used for purposes other than which it had been designed
- Equipment which has not been properly maintained
- Equipment which was continued to be used after a defect had been found
- Equipment which was damaged in any way

Stud Welding Products will never be liable for consequential damages, loss, or expense occurring directly or indirectly from the use of the equipment covered in this warranty. All cables, cable sets, and connectors are not covered under warranty. Equipment not listed below, please contact your sales rep for warranty information.
